3. On 9 January CH'EN Lan* called in two of his agents, HUANG Sen* and CH'EN P'ei*, to discuss the following objectives recently assigned to the Macao branch of the Third International Far East Information Office.
 - a. Information on the military plan of the United States to aid the Chinese Nationalists and Li Tsung-jen's third force in an attack on the mainland, and the American plan to use Macao and Hong Kong as bases for the infiltration of large numbers of spies, guerrillas and anti-Communist elements into China.
 - b. Information on world-wide anti-Communist activities of anti-Communist groups.
 - c. Close observation of the diplomatic and political activities of the Macao Government, supplemented by efforts to block any action favorable to anti-Communist groups.
 - d. Close surveillance of the activities of all new democratic personages in Macao, with care to prevent their engaging in espionage.
 - e. Enlistment of promising individuals as underground workers.
 - f. Persuasion of overseas Chinese returning to the United States to engage in anti-American espionage.
4. On 11 January 1951 LIANG Cheng (梁成), head of the Macao Information Section of the Central and South China Bureau, instructed TS'AI Ling-shuang*, an intelligence agent, to redouble his efforts to get information on the American evacuation of nationals and firms from Hong Kong, the expansion of American aid to the Nationalists and Li Tsung-jen, and American plans for infiltrating agents to the mainland. TS'AI assigned his subordinates, YU Hung-chun (余鴻鈞), SU Chien-ch'iang* and HO Luo-hua (何國華), to the task of getting this information. YU, a former Kuomintang intelligence agent in Macao and reporter on the Shih Chieh Daily News, was induced to work for the Communists by TS'AI Ling-shuang in the fall of 1950, when he became a reporter on the Ta Chung Pao. SU is a reporter for the Ta Chung Pao and a correspondent for the Ta Kung Pao. HO is business manager of the Ta Chung Pao.
5. LIANG Cheng also assigned LI T'ien-hua (李天化) to get details on the evacuation of American nationals and firms from Hong Kong and to learn if the American consulate general had set up its underground political agency in Macao. Should the latter be the case, LI was to obtain all details regarding personnel, organization, and so on. LI was formerly an intelligence agent for the 4 Field Army Headquarters. He is assistant to HO T'ing-tai (何廷泰), deputy to LIANG Cheng.
6. On 4 January LIANG Cheng asked CHU Ch'ih-p'ing (朱地平), Communist manager of the Wan Tung Bank in Macao, to approach LIANG Ch'ang and obtain his support for LIANG Cheng's intelligence work. After three meetings, during which CHU explained the unit's program, LIANG Ch'ang promised his full support, and said that on Tuesdays and Fridays he would pass intelligence reports to CHU at the bank, for transmittal to LIANG Cheng.
7. LIANG Cheng has succeeded in securing the services of OU Hua (歐華), a detective in the Political Department of the Macao Police, who is reported to be extremely useful because of his acquaintance with Macao underground activities. OU is to report to LIANG through LI T'ien-hua.
8. On 8 January YEH Ping-juan* and K'G Lin held a meeting with CH'EN Tiao-kun*, TU Lan* and PI I-wen (皮逸文), principal of the primary school of the Southeast Middle School, at which the latter were instructed to make a thorough survey of all cultural organizations, schools, churches, social
